

Published based on How to House Train Your Pup

How to House Train Your Pup

Now that you have just brought your adorable little pup home from the shelter he has just rewarded you with his first mess on your floor! the first step to establishing a good repore with your dog, will be house training. Dog owers can get very discouraged at this time. You will learn some great tips for puppy house training that will make things a lot easier in a short period.

Most people find the crate to be a very good tool in training the new dog. The area where a dogs sleeps is not likely to be where he would go potty, because he needs to learn to be able to control himself, it is a good idea to put him in a crate for short stays at one time.As soon as you take him from his crate you should take him straight outside to go potty. By rewarding him after he has gone, you will reinforce to him how happy you are that he is going potty outside.

You should not punish your puppy if he has an accident. Take your puppy outside to show him the proper place to potty and then clean up the mess while your dog is not around to watch you. You should make sure you completely get rid of the smell or he will return to that spot to do it again.

Puppy house training is a process that requires plenty of time and patience, but it is far from impossible. With consistency and the help of a crate, your dog will learn the appropriate place to potty in no time. Puppy house training is the first step in raising a dog that is a pleasure to his entire family.

You can also find this article published on How to House Train Your Pup