Pretty Dog Collars For Your Pooch

Designer dog collars and leashes come in a variety of sizes, shapes and price ranges. Many times these types of pet accessories are based on a certain theme. The basis of the theme can be on a number of different things, but most of the time, it is related to the breed of dog or the country from which your breed of dog originated. Sometimes it may be a combination of the two. For instance, a sheep dog would look grand in a collar specific to its country of origin; Ireland. Something like a collar made of green leather or nylon emblazoned with a shamrock-shaped design. A Scottish terrier may wear a pet collar with a plaid design that matches his plaid coat and hat. One of the most popular ways to outfit your pet is by designing a collar to match the origin of the breed.

Of course, many times owners are more interested in making a personal statement about themselves and their dog by matching them with their own personal tastes. Although these tastes may not appeal to everyone, for the owner of the perfectly pampered pet, it is a wonderful way to reflect who they are and how they feel about their dog. For instance, let's take a look at poodles. If the female owner of a poodle likes the color pink, she may seek out a custom dog collar in a glorious shade of pink.

The pet collar may also have ornamentation that matches the owner's own collection of jewelry. There are also the hardcore biker-types who like to outfit their dogs with matching black leather and spiked dog collars; items that match their own biker wardrobe. Don't you know there is a designer collar out there for almost anyone with any type of dog, from a mutt to a pure bred? These types of dog owners tend to dress their pooches every day and treat them as a member of the family. It seems that coordinating and dressing their dog takes almost as much time as it does to dress themselves.

If you do a search for types of collars, you will discover that there are collars for every taste imaginable. There are camouflage collars, collars with polka dots, zebra or flower prints, giant bows and rhinestones. You can get personalized dog collars and even lighted dog collars. The imagination is the limit to what you can find when looking for unique and fashionable designer dog collars for your pet.

If you head over to www.trendypuppy.com or www.gucci.com, you will find a wonderland of gorgeous and unique designer dog collars from which to choose. They offer every color under the rainbow as well as high-fashion designs. No matter what your tastes are like, one of these sites can help you find the perfect dog collar designs and accessories for your furry family member.
