A Unique Kind of Dog Grooming

Dog grooming for your pet dog, should be considered an enjoyable experience for the dogs themselves, however abuse during dog grooming is unfortunately quite occurring in the dog grooming industry with some current stressful (for the dog) measures being used. However, there is a less stressful means and technique style kind of grooming for dogs giving them a possibility to be groomed and pampered without using preventable harsh measures and succeeding all the same. This course approach for Dog Grooming is used by many Dog Groomers all over the world and one in particular if you ever visit New Zealand or live in New Zealand, is by Dog Grooming Auckland facility Lucy's Dog Grooming.

Owner Lucy explains there are existing measures that can be achieved via the persistence of serene and calm setting right through the total dog grooming facility. Commonly, the atmosphere should be dog-friendly, where they are handled and received as if they belonged to the caregivers themselves since as we all know especially if you are a pet owner, animal's sense and retort better to peaceful unthreatening environments. Most staff in such serene dog grooming surroundings understands that canine comfort and needs are higher up the list, enabling them to accept and loosen up more on the grooming process.

At Dog Grooming Auckland facility and others that implement this strategy for dogs, all the fearful and threatening situations that terrifies dogs are absent, gone forever where the pets are held comfortably on the table during the grooming process without turning to noose techniques that have been labeled utterly abusive where a dog automatically by nature, becomes defensive. By employing patient holding and reassuring talking by staff means the pet is not made afraid during the grooming experience and they will relate to the experience as an enjoyable one. In fact, most of these new dog grooming habitudes ensure that beds have been set within the entire facilities that dogs wait on, reducing stress in a friendly environment while discarding the use of cages in the process. It works and is fully safe for all involved. Very successful exercise techniques are also reinforced that assist in soothing and comforting the dogs, with big genuine cuddles mutual with a general love while talking to them all the way through.

Methods abusive and avoided at all costs in calm dog grooming centers include avoidance of plucking ears, expressing their anal glands, non use of medication or teeth scaling in all the stages. Dying and colouring of pets is extremely steer clear of, while owners are also cautioned against doing the same. In every part of the course, the dog is made to relax and cosy, creating a very pleasing process and happening. All that is uttered to the dogs is love and persistence, conversation and cuddling.

Use of abusive measures has quick dollars as the end-product but for the dogs, mostly those that are temperamental, the process leads to jitterier and excited canines. This is why the procedure of dog grooming has to take a more non-abusive and intimidating trend, even if the staff has to be present at different seminars and workshops to make sure abuse is curtailed. At Dog Grooming Auckland facility we recognize that a threatened dog becomes naturally dangerous by becoming defensive, so it can and will also exert the same feelings. Thus from the beginning, the process must take a much more relaxing, comforting and a stress free angle to it. At most times when these are employed, cages aren't necessary either and safety of everyone staff and dogs can absolutely be achieved. Adverse effects can and will eventuate in the case of the dog when it is not well comforted.
